Advance notice for The Magical Day in the Park:

During the first week of the holidays a special schools' gardening club event, The 'Magical Day in the Park' will be held from 9th - 11th July in Saumarez Park.

I am able to take a group of children to the History workshop on Wednesday 9th July.

This promises:

"An accredited guide leads the workshop, which includes an insight into the past of the House, Museum, Gardens and Japanese Structures. You will never see Saumarez Park in the same light again.

This workshop is in conjunction with Guernsey Museums and Guernsey History in Action Company and can be linked with a free visit to the National Trust Folk Museum in the Park.

13th June 2014

This depicts life as it used to be in the Islands about 100years ago. Displays include domestic life, costumes, farming, fishing and seafaring, trades, the tomato industry and transport. See demonstrations of traditional crafts in the Courtyard."

We are invited to come for lunch from approximately 12.30pm (children would get free lunch boxes) which would give us time to see the displays in the marquee, the wheelbarrow competition which we are also entering, and other lunch-time activities. The workshop itself begins at 1.30pm If you are interested in coming, please contact me to book places: parents are invited too, of course. I would need to know by July 1st in order to confirm numbers.
