

Elliott Cockett produced the winning superhero design for the poster and programme cover for the BWCi Camerata Series. He is seen with the sponsor's Carla Blackmore, centre, holding his winning design, and the Camerata's Michelle Nash. (Picture by Steve Sarre, 13058571)

Elliott is design superhero

SUPERHERO artwork by an Elizabeth College student will be used on a poster and programme cover for the annual family BWCi Camerata Concert Series.

Elliott Cockett won a design competition to promote the superheroes-themed concert, which takes place on Sunday 7 February at St James. The event includes music from Batman, Superman, Spiderman and The Incredibles.

by Helen Devonshire

hdevonshire@guernseypress.com

Grammar School student Lauren Hagerman, 13, was the runner-up and her design will also feature in the programme.

Year 12 student Elliott, 17, said he found out about the competition when one of his teachers suggested he took part.

His design featured James Bond, Spiderman and Batman and the words 'Summon the Superheroes'.

He used Photoshop and it took him two or three hours to complete.

Carla Blackmore, from the BWCi Group, said the theme inspired the imagination of the entrants. 'Choosing two winners was an almost impossible task but the winning designs are colourful, bright and full of energy which, we felt, reflected the concert.'